

HONOREE

Terrance Baldwin is a native of Montgomery, Alabama, and a product of the Montgomery Public School System. He attended CCPAC (Carver Creative Performing Arts Center) where he received numerous awards in musical theatre, piano, and vocal performance. He graduated from Booker T. Washington High School in 1997. He then entered Alabama State University where he received a Bachelor of Arts and Degree in Music Education. While being a student at Alabama State University, he received extensive training in performance under Dr. Tonea Stewart, and he served as section leader for over three years in the University Choir under the leadership of Dr. Joel Jones.

Since graduating from ASU, Terrance has had experience as a touring musician with American Idol winner Ruben Studdard performing on some of the world's largest stages. He also owns T Baldwin Music, where he provides quality entertainment through his flagship entity SOULED OUT band. He has more than thirteen years of service at Hutchinson Street Missionary Baptist Church where he serves as a musician. He is the founder of MEOW Academy (Music Education on Wheels), a music school designed to create the musicians of tomorrow. He is also the executive director of MEOW Cares, MEOW's nonprofit parallel.

His community memberships include Phi Mu Alpha Professional Music Fraternity Inc., and Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc. He is also a member of Class XXXI Leadership Montgomery. He is married to Ronya Baldwin and they have two children Terron, and Terrance, Jr. He is diligently working toward many more years of nurturing the world through music.

Guest Speaker

Pastor Jackie Slaughter is the oldest of two girls and two boys born to Mildred and Johnny Slaughter. She hails Mississippi as home and has fond childhood memories of summers with her grandparents and catching “lighten’ bugs” at dusk. In second grade, Jackie read a book called “Animals Do the Strangest Things”. She told her grandmother that people do strange things too and someday she would find out why. That was the beginning of her love of ‘people watching’ and psychology. With an undergrad degree in clinical psychology, Jackie began her journey in the world of work. Working as a case manager, outpatient counselor, and group home supervisor, Jackie finally found her niche as a trauma counselor working with incest and rape survivors.

Life is an adventure and Jackie’s was just beginning when she finally answered a call that others had long told her was on her life. Accepting her call into ordained ministry, Jackie received both her MDiv and MTS from Methodist Theological School and returned to pastor in the Alabama-West Florida Conference of the United Methodist Church. Jackie has studied at Cambridge University in England and pastored in the British Methodist Church. She has also served churches in Ohio, Alabama, and Florida. She is a much sought-after preacher, teacher and worship leader.

Her love of people has led Jackie to move in ways that uplift and encourage others. She frequently serves on boards of community agencies, particularly those working with women and children. Jackie most currently serves as a leadership team member and coach with Communities of Transformation (COT). COT works to move people toward self-sufficiency and away from instability, isolation and dependence. Jackie also serves as a volunteer chaplain for the Montgomery Police Department offering support to families at police calls where a death has occurred.

Jackie is an avid reader, loves a good joke and a well told story. You will often find Jackie taking road trips with her Mom. She enjoys many genres of music and is a certified drum circle facilitator. Jackie also spends time working on her crochet projects and being a “good human” for her 14-year-old fur baby Sammie.
